Show us what you think

We know that strong communities are safer for young people.

But we want to know what YOU think are the most important things that adults can do to create better environments for you?

Your artwork can depict anything that you think is important in a safe community, such as:

- Listening to the voices of young people
- Important activities and facilities for young people
- Having adults you can turn to for help
- What you like most about your neighbourhood
- The people and places in your community that make you feel safe

How will your artwork be used?

We will use the winning artworks as part of our campaign for National Child Protection Week in September, which has the theme 'Stronger Communities, Safer Children'. In addition to prizes, you will get credit wherever your artwork is used.

How to enter?

- Draw or paint your artwork on A3 paper (can be landscape or portrait).
- Your artwork should use pictures rather than words (if you need a few words, that's ok but we're mostly after pictures).
- Email a photo of your artwork to contact@napcan.org.au (make sure you keep the original - we will need it if you win)
